NOTICE

New Director for OFM's San Francisco Regional Office

The Office of Foreign Missions is pleased to announce the arrival of Clayton Stanger as the Director of its San Francisco Regional Office.

A Foreign Service member with 20 years of overseas experience in Europe, the Middle East, and Central and South America, Mr. Stanger will work to enhance the partnerships between OFM, the foreign diplomatic community and state and local governments. Mr Stanger also served in the State Department's Bureau of Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs: developing and implementing the United States Global Water Strategy, a coherent single view by 20 USG agencies on how the United States approaches global water security challenges; and he worked to conserve and protect sea turtles through the use and promotion of turtle excluder devices in shrimp trawls. Mr. Stanger may be contacted by telephone at (415) 744-2910 or by electronic mail at OFMSFCustomerService@state.gov.

Additional information concerning OFM San Francisco is available at <https://www.state.gov/ofm/ro/sf/index.htm>.

The organization chart for OFM San Francisco is enclosed.
